Very Tiring

I'm sure I am no different than everyone else. I'm tired of all the pandemic stuff, all the restrictions, masks, and worst of all, not being able to spend time with your family and friends. But it looks like there is light at the end of the tunnel. Alberta is opening up completely July 1st, and Saskatchewan is opening up July 11. I am hoping we are not too far behind.

The weather has been extremely hot one week and then unusually cool the next. If you have a place at the lake, especially in Ontario, it's nice that they have lifted the restrictions allowing us to go to our cabins. Our summers are too short and you have to take advantage of every weekend.

Get out and enjoy our many lakes and rivers while you can. Support all the local businesses as much as ..... continued on page 3

I've always liked small boats and little outboard motors where you can almost go anywhere as long as your careful. Needing to replace a canoe, the past few years I was in the market for another small and narrow boat. With second long, plastic composite, flat bottom Jon boat is the most fun I've had on the water in years! It has 6 cup holders (for soda pop, right?) and has a 600 lb capacity, is also hand boat prices skyrocketing, it made most sense to pick up a Sundolphin American 12 from Canadian Tire. This 12- foot rated for up to 6 horsepower. I have a few small short-shaft outboards, but the one I've decided to power it with is a 1976 Johnson, ..con't on page 2

Checklist to prepare your car for a road trip

Check your tires

Have a look at your tire pressure and make sure it matches up with the guidelines set out in your owner's manual. Check the wheels for any bulges or crack and examine the condition of the tire tread.

Test your lights

Have a look around the front and rear of the car. Are your headlights, blinkers, brake lights, hazard lights, and reverse lights all in working order? Are any of the lights cracked or burnt out?

Get a Check Up for your car

If your car hasn't been in the shop for awhile, spending the money for a Check Up before you set out on the road could save you from having to shell out for a major repair while on vacation. Your technician can check all the essential fluids and filters (oil, transmission fluid, antifreeze/coolant, radiator coolant, brake fluid, windshield washer fluid, and power steering fluid) to see if they need to be changed or topped up. They'll also look to see if any hoses or belts need to be replaced. The best time to take your car in is at least two weeks before your road trip-that way if the technician finds any major issues, you'll still have time to fix them.

Learn the car's features

Whether you've been driving your car for months, or you've just purchased it, it's always helpful to read up about it. Have a list of all the features that the vehicle is equipped with. Writing them down ahead of time will prevent you from forgetting anything when you're put on the spot.

Test your brakes

Listen carefully to your brakes to spot any squeaking or scraping sounds. Is there a burning smell or do your pedals go all the way to the floor? This probably means it's time to replace the brake pads and give the area a good check-up.

Check the A/C

If you're taking off on a road trip in early spring or summer, then you probably haven't had the chance to blast the air conditioning since last summer. Test it out to see if it's still running properly and pumping out cold air.

Pack the essentials

Make a list of what you need for the trip. Consider packing road maps for emergencies, hotel information, spare phone charger for the car and to plug into a socket, music travel games, snacks and beverages. Have a look at your emergency roadside kit to make sure it's up to date.

Make a schedule

Figure out what times you'll be driving and when you need to pull off the road to find lodging, food or to take a nap. Don't plan to drive extended amount of time without sleep - alternate drivers it make sure everyone gets a rest.

Clean your car

Stop by the carwash so you can set off on the trip with a shiny, clean care both inside and out.

If you take the time to go through these steps before you begin your road trip, you'll be able to relax and enjoy the ride knowing that your car is in great shape and ready for the road ahead.

Helping the Homeless

First of all, thank you to all of you that have contributed money. We have helped a lot of people out and they are very thankful. If you can help with a donation, contact me at lance@lanproauto.com.

Every bit helps! I've had to stop going out as much, as the cost has gotten overwhelming for myself to pay.

.....Matt Skniner - con't from front page. 6 horsepower twin.

These are a sought-after motor due to their top speed and lightweight. This little boat with two people in it moves along just fine and is far more stable than a canoe. The boat is an awkward shape but very easily moveable with two people. My father and I built a custom mini trailer for this boat to make it easier to launch and leave the outboard and gear attached. The trailer looks like a boat trailer you would normally see, only... Mini. It attaches to my ATV and top speed at functions quite well for something a few guys built in a week. My late Uncle Jim had a mini trailer frame sort of started and just was taking up space, so we just kept going from what he had started.

With just myself in the boat I GPS'd the 17 MPH! Far faster than anyone needs to go on a 12 foot boat. But hey, I needed to replace the legendary canoe from the icy-water rescues anyways, and why not get there a little faster?

See you at the Front Counter.

Minute Steak with Onion Gravy

Prep. Time: 10 minutes    Cook Time: 15 minutes    Total time: 25 minutes

Ingredients    5 Servings

- |                      |                              |
|----------------------|------------------------------|
| 1 1/2lb minute steak | 1/2 cup vegetable oil        |
| 1/3 cup flour        | 1 large onion, sliced        |
| 1/2 tsp garlic salt  | 1 (14oz) can beef broth      |
| 1/2 tsp pepper       | Salt and pepper to taste     |
|                      | 1 package dry onion soup mix |

Instructions:

1. Combine flour, garlic salt, and pepper in a shallow dish. Dredge both sides of cubed steak in flour mixture.
2. Heat oil in a large skillet (preferably cast iron) over medium-high heat. Add steak (cooking in 2 batches if necessary), Cook 5 minutes per side. Remove steak from skillet and set aside.
3. Add onion, broth and onion soup mix to the drippings in the pan. Use a wooden spoon to scrape up any browned bits stuck to bottom of the pan.
4. Bring to a simmer and cook until onions are soft.
5. Return steak to pan to warm. Serve with mashed potatoes.

you can. It's been a tough road to get through this.

If you are going on the highway, is your vehicle ready? A lot of people are fooled into thinking that, "I haven't driven much so I don't need to do regular maintenance". Summer heat puts a strain on just about every part of your vehicle.

Before you venture out onto the highway-have a Summer Tune/Check Up. This is a thorough inspection including an Alignment Check, AVR, Engine Health Check, Pressure Test Cooling System, A/C Check, and much, much more.
